

TRANSITION

All students at Cambridge Primary School are involved in a transition program that allows them to experience the next level of their education.

PREP TRANSITION

Prep transition is an opportunity for curious kinder children to spend approximately 4 sessions, starting from 1 hour to half a day, in a prep classroom in preparation for their first year at school. Parents of prep children are also invited to attend Information evenings and parent programs run by staff at the school which complement their child's entry into primary school education at Cambridge.

YEAR 6 TRANSITION

Representatives of secondary colleges visit our grade 6 students throughout the year to discuss any issues and give out any necessary information to assist students transition to secondary education. The first Tuesday in December is set aside for all grade 6 students accepted into government secondary schools to attend an Orientation Day at their new school. All new prep students also attend primary school on this day.

Cambridge also runs an intraschool transition program from prep-grade 5 each year. Children also get the experience of spending time with their next year's teacher during late term 4.
